Quality Information and Results

Navicus is committed to providing the highest quality services in the industry. Through its secure operations center, key personnel continuously monitor and test field agents. Expert in-house compliance teams ensure our clients that their critical information is processed to meet both stringent regulatory requirements and high quality standards. In addition, Navicus provides quarterly client reviews and robust management reporting tools to ensure ongoing client satisfaction and return on investment.

Customizable Technology Solutions

One of Navicus' strengths is in its customizable technology offerings. Through custom report orders and delivery options, integrated delivery of multiple products and services, Web-based applications, XML interfaces with HRIS/ATS systems and online employment application solutions, Navicus provides scalable, flexible technology solutions to fit most any business situation. From specialized Web-based screening solutions for clients that hire only a few employees a year, to comprehensive online management reports, automation of adverse action functions and more, clients can match their technology needs with their screening requirements.

Service, Support, and Satisfaction

Superior client support and responsive service are key attributes that establish Navicus as a preferred provider. With multi-level client support initiatives, including national account managers, client satisfaction representatives, customer implementation advisors, client service specialists and regular business reviews, we have the resources to support our relationships and provide world-class support.

Compliance, Guidance, Communication

One of the most important aspects of an effective screening program is helping to ensure employers and risk management professionals remain in compliance with complex regulations. Navicus provides a comprehensive suite of compliance and managed services solutions for this purpose. Through our in-house compliance team, FCRA compliance solutions, policy development services, ongoing newsletters and email notifications, and training initiatives, Navicus focuses on the compliance needs of our clients.
